Human Flesh Found in and Around the Wreck - Many of the Dead Mangled Beyond Recognition-A List of the Dend and Injured - The Train Filled with Working - People from West Roxbury, Dedham and Roslyndale-A Defect is the Bridge the Cause of the Accident-Thousands of People at the Scene of the Wreck-Five Bodies at the Morgue Unidentified.

Boston, March 14.-A heavily loaded pas enger train on the Boston & Providence Railroad, met with a terrible accident about 7 scene of the accident. NINETEEN BODIES RECOVERED.

Advices from the scene of the wreck on the Boston & Providence Railroad state that nineteen bodies have already been taken from the THE KILLED AND INJURED.

The latest advices from the scene of the acident on the Boston & Providence Railroad indicate that thirty-three persons were killed; orty injured. Among these are many women. Conductor Tilden was among the killed. ON A ROTTEN BRIDGE.

The accident this morning occurred on the Dedham branch of the Boston & Providence Railroad, between Forest Hill and Roslindale at what is known as Bussey Park Bridge. The o'clock train from Dedham, consisting of seven cars and a baggage-car, under charge of Conductor Tilden, broke through the bridge. The engine and three cars went over safely, but the five others fell through the THE ROAD BENEATH, a distance of thirty feet. The last car, which was the smoker, turned completely over and struck on top of the others, all being crushed

It is stated that the bridge where the accident occurred this morning is comparatively a new one and that the accident was caused by hand and prevented any spread of the flames. The bodies of the dead have all been removed, and of the wounded, some are at the hospital and some have been taken home, so that it is very difficult to obtain their names and the extent of their injuries at the present time. AMONG THE KILLED ARE:

Conductor TILDEN. Sergt. NAYLOR of the West Roxbury division of the Boston police. W. E. Snow.

ALICE BURNETT of Roslindale. MABEL ADAMS of Dedham. FRANK NORRIS of Dedham. HARRY GAY, mortally injured and dying.

AMONG THE INJURED ARE: FRANK PLUMMER. NELLIE PALMER.

Mrs. AMES. GEORGE LORD. L. A. CARR. Mrs. LIPPINCOTT. CASSIE SMITHER. - DRISKO. GEORGE MAY. FRED E. SCHROEDER.

NO RELIABLE DETAILS.

Many of the injured were brought to the hospitals in this city and some of the killed have not been identified. The train was crowded with working people and the most intense excitement prevails among their friends, who are anxious to learn the names of those killed and injured. There are no reliable details of the number of the dead as yet.

THE DYING. The police say that thirty-three were killed outright and that nearly as many will die. A. Vebster Clapp died in the Forest Hill station, where he had been taken.

The engineer, when his engine broke from the train, kept right on to Forest Hill and gave the alarm instead of stopping to ascertain the was at the scene within twenty minutes after extent of the accident, and on that account it the wreck occurred, brought by a letter

ATTENDING THE DEAD AND INJURED. As soon as the accident occurred, word was sent to the nearest station, and from there All the Cars Broken into Splinters-Pieces of the Superintendent was notified by telegraph, and messengers, summoning surgical assistance, were sent out on horseback. Surgeons were at once in attendance and the injured ssengers received prompt attention. In the meantime a force of men set to work to re leve those who were pinned under the wreck and a wrecking train was made up and a once sent to the scene. One hun fifty mattresses were obtained at the City Hospital and sent to the scene of the accident by special train, which also carried a large num ber of surgeons, together with friends of the passengers.

THOUSANDS AT THE SCENE. A gentleman who left the scene at o'clock said that when he left some twenty bodies had been taken from the ruins, and o'clock this morning between Roslindale and Forest Hill. A wrecking train has left for the been removed to the City Hospital and died after reaching there from the effects of their says, was very large. The bridge where the cident occurred was one over South street, and the gentleman says the accident was due weight of the train, owing, doubtless, to some hidden fault in the construction or the ma-terial used. The news spread like wildfire and people thronged to the scene by the thousands. In a short time the place was crowded with people.

An inspection of the wreck reveals the fact that the eight cars comprising the train are jumbled into a complete wreck, not one of the coaches escaping almost perfect demolition. From the location of the wrecked care it would seem that the first cars passed over the bridge safely. The structure evidently gave way when the fourth car was passing over it. The five rear cars went through to the roadway landing in a mass of splinters in the street. The strain of the five falling cars pulled the three coaches in advance from the rail. They remained on top of the embankment, but were pulled off their trucks and the floor of each was forced first one official and then another with quescaused by the car ahead grinding against it when the others went down the embankment. The third coach was flattened to the ground, a truck on one of the cars giving way, causing the car to strike against the abutment of the bridge. The smoking-car, after it fell, caught fire, but the fire department was promptly on hand and prevented any spread of the flames.

The third coach was flattened to the ground, as if it had failen on its trucks from a great height, although it remained on the edge of the embankment. The roof of the fourth car also remained on the embankment, having evidently been shaved clean from its fastenings, where the coach went through. The next four cars went down in a heap, the smoker, which was in the rear of the train, falling in the midst of the coaches and being actually ground into small splinters. The inmates of the smoker were

ALL EITHER KILLED OR INJURED, not one escaping without injury of some kind. One of the coaches went clear across the roadway, landing against a stone wall that bounded a large field at the foot of a hill. As the cars lie in their present location, they present a picture of such demolition that remarkable that any person in them escaped alive. Cushions from the seats are scattered over the roadway and into the adjacent pasture, while car wheels and trucks are distributed in all directions. In the mass of splinters in the roadway are pools of blood, and occasionally a portion of a body can be seen, although such connected portions of human remains as are found are hurried away to the morgue. Still there are pieces of flesh to be seen, sometimes fastened between timbers, as if actually gouged from some victim. PORTIONS OF A HUMAN BODY.

Conductor Tilden was in the third car, which remained on top of the embankment, and on the ground directly underneath where he was standing when killed is a pool of blood, while half of the debris of that coach is spattered with blood. Underneath this coach were picked up the breast and lungs of a human being, possibly a portion of the conductor's body. That the HORRORS OF FIRE were not added to the tel ible disaster was due to the promptness with which relief was sent. The chemical engine from Roslyndale the wreck occurred, brought by a letter carrier who gave an alarm of fire upon observing flames issuing from the debris. The flames were soon extinguished and the firemen then did excellent work in rescuing the injured. The stoves in all the cars were securely fastened to the floors by iron boits and the doors of the stoves were locked. In only one car did the stoves were locked. In only one that are a stove was smashed clear through the stoves were locked. In only one car did the stoves were locked.

There were men, too, in the crowd, who shed tears, perhaps as much from sympathy with the great distress of so many women, as from sorrow in their behalf. It was no uncommon thing to hear women ask if such or such a person had been killed, and when answered "I can not tell you, ma' am," they would burst out crying, lamenting and exclaiming that they knew their friends were dead.

A PASSENGER'S THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

George Sanford of Roslyndale was in the second car of the wrecked train, and tells a thrilling story of his experience. He said: "I took the train at Roslyndale with my mother; we wore sitting in the middle of the second car. There was absolutely nothing to give a premonition of the disaster. All at once there was a crash, a deafening noise, a moment or two of the grinding of timbers, and then, for a moment, all was still. It had come with such awful suddenness that everybody seemed paralyzed. Then arose a confusion of sounds from the wrecked train as steed to the second car. A VALUABLE WITNESS.

Cong Seng, the Chinaman, and What Depends On His Testimony. James Baptiste, the Chinaman who worked up the highbinder murder cases, and C. Orrick Bishop of the Circuit Attorney's office, to-day paid a visit to the Jail to see Cong Seng, the State's cipal witness in these cases, and cipal witness in these cases, and satisfy themselves as to his mental condition. Ever since the conviction of Chyo Goom and Chyo Chiagk, this important witness, who is being held in jail on a charge of robbery in order to save him as a witness, has been alling, ande for some time it has been feared he has been losing his mind and could never be used again by the State on this account. After their interview with him Messrs. Bishop and Bantisto stated that they had found him stolid and stubborn, but thought he was looking better and that he was of sound mind. There are still three Chinamen in jail awaiting trial for the Lou Johnson murder, besides the two already convicted, Cong Seng, who was an accessory to the crime, being the sixth man arrested in connection with it. Should he become insane it will be impossible for the State to convict the remaining prisoners, and if the Supreme Court should grant a new trial to Chyo Goom and Chyo Chiagk they would also escape punishment.

The Convict Contract Charge Sustained by the Investigating Committee.

Chairman Booth Makes a Report to the House To-Day.

te Auditor's Offense a Felony Under the Revised Statutes and Punishable by ent in the Penitentiary-The Not Proven-The Railroad Bill-Proceedings of the Missouri Legislature.

By Telegraph to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., March 14.—Chairman Booth of the House committee appointed to investigate the charges of official misconduct against State Auditor John Walker, to the great surprise of everybody, excepting those whose relations with the comafforded them an opportunity of becoming acquainted with the character of the testimony given before the committee, this morning submitted a report to the House which reflects severely upon Mr. transaction. The committee sustains the that he was interested in a convict-labor contract while occupying sition of a Penitentiary inspector. Should the committee's finding be correct and Mr. Walker be guilty of the violation of the section of the statutes prohibiting a State Penitentlary Inspector from sustaining busitentiary, then he has, under the statutes committed a felony, and while Mr. Booth stated on the floor, in offering the report, that there was an absence of any intention on Mr. Walker's part to defraud or in any way injure the State, yet the committee says he violated the statutes, and, in view of the facts, "the intent," may be very difficult to establish, and a closeer inquiry into the case by the House is REGARDED AS ALMOST IMPERATIVE.

The report of the committee was adopted, and 5,000 copies ordered printed for the information of members. In adopting the report the House in no way passed upon its correctness or endorsed it. Should further investigation incline a majority of the House to the belief that the Auditor should be impeached, a committee of the House will be impeached, a committee of the House will be apointed to prosecute him before the bar of the Senate, where the case will be tried. After finding that the Pollock and Turner charges, that Walker accepted money from his employes, were not sustained and had been resolved to a mere question of veracity between Messrs. Turner and Pollock and Auditor Walker, that the branch pententiary charge was utterly without foundation, and that there was nothing particularly offensive in the charge that Walker had offered Gen. McIntyre a bribe to purchase his (McIntyre's) house, the report says:

"In June, 1884, Mr. Priesmever applied to Mr. Walker to put money into the Standard Shoe Company, representing that the company had a good contract, but did not have money enough, as capital, to run the business successfully, and with about $15,000 added, making the capital stock $30,000, he confidently hoped to make it a success, but that if that was not done, and that immediately, the Standard Shoe Company would go to protest on its paper; that about the time Mr. Priesmeyer so applied to Mr. Walker he, in like manner, applied to Mr. Walker he, in like manner, applied to mr. Walker he, in like manner, applied to by Mr. Priesmeyer, Mr. Walker, Mr. Church, and Mr. Beckers each concluded to put $5,000 into the stock of the Standard Shoe Company, and did each put $5,000 into the Stock of said company in his own name. Mr. Walker, about the lift of June, 1884, went with Mr. Priesmeyer to the place of business of Mr. H. B. Church, which is defiers on City, and told Mr. Church of his willingness to put money in the Standard Shoe REGARDED AS ALMOST IMPERATIVE.

Received of John Walker five thousand dollars ($5,000), for the use of which I agree to pay him one-half of one-third of the annual dividend of the Standard Shoe Company of Cole County, Mo. I agree to use the money in paying for stock at par in the said company, the amount of the stock being $30,000. I hereby further agree to hold the said stock purchased with the $5,000 in trust for said John Walker, and to transfer the stock to the order of said John Walker ($5,000.) Given under my hand and seal this lift day of June, 1884.

And gave to Mr. Church the $5,000, and Mr. Church signed and delivered to Mr. Walker the instrument in writing last mentioned, and shortly thereafter Mr. Church made said arrangement with Mr. Walker.

INVESTED THE $5,000

of Mr. Walker in stock of the Standard Shoe Company, and also on his own account purchased $5,000 of the stock of said company, taking all the stock so bought in his own name. In November, 1886, it came to Mr. Walker's notice that persons outside the Standard Shoe Company had notice of his transaction in the stock of said company, and he endeavored to sell the stock to Mr. Lohman of Jefferson City. Mr. Lohman, after investigating as to the stock, declined to buy, and thereafter, in December, 1886, Mr. Walker selfected a sale of the stock to Church & Bro. and Knaup; that prior to Mr. Walker's sale of the stock, a dividend of 20 per cent in the stock of the Standard Shoe Company was payable and Mr. Walker sold his stock and his interest in the dividend thereon for $4,500, payable $1,000 cash. $1,750 in notes payable in six menths, with interest at 8 per cent from maturity, and $1,750 in notes payable in six menths, with interest at 8 per cent from maturity, and $1,750 in notes payable in six menths, with interest at 8 per cent from maturity, and $1,750 in notes payable in large to the state, became interested in the said contract for convict labor and continued to be so interested therein from that time until during his second term of office as State Audi working force SHOULD BE INCREASED

This increase, however, appears from the evidence to have been more to the interest of the State than of the Standard Shoe Company; further, the committee finds that afterwards, on the 5th of March 1886, the Standard Shoe Company; prepresenting that said increase was

WOOD'S LOCAL OPTION BILL.

On account of small attendance in the House this morning, the friends of the Wood local option bill, decided not to call it up for final option bill, decided not to call it up for final consideration, until to-morrow afternoon. Senator Wood and Dr. Newberry are of the opinion that after the bill has been amended, so as to include the saie of wine with other intoxicants, it will pass by a large majority. The amendment will necessitate further action on the bill by the Senate, and some very quick work will have to be done to get it through this session.

Representative Moore of Laclede County this morning secured the passage by the House of his bill restricting the appointment of special deputies by municipal officers. The bill is aimed at the destruction of the system of self-protection by corporations by the employment of private detectives, and, if finally passed by the Senate, will lop off a considerable revenue from the Pinkerton Detective Agency of Chicago. The bill reads as follows:

"No Sheriff, Mayor, Constable or other peace officer shall appoint any person a special deputy, or special policeman, wno has not resided continuously in this State one year, and in the county or city for which he is appointed six months just prior to his appointed special deputy or special policeman who belongs to any organization commonly known as detective agency."

THE RAILROAD BILL.

At lo'clock this afternoon the House Committee on Internal Improvements met to consider the advisability of reporting for passage the Senate railroad bill. On Wednesday the sider the advisability of reporting for passage the Senate railroad bill. On Wednesday the Sper diem of the Legislators drops to $1, and it is feared that to longer delay final action on the Senate bill might endanger its chances of passage on account of the absence of a number of members who have announced their intention of leaving for their homes on that day. S me of the leading friends of the bill are in favor of an immediate report and a vote on it this afternoon. But this will hardly be done, for the reason that a Republican caucus has been called to meet tonight to consider the question of repealing the caucus piedge against the bill. The Democratic anti-railroad members are willing to give to the Republicans the amendment which they originally asked fr. increasing the number of Railroad Commissioners to five, two of whom shall be Republicans. The Republicans however, realizing their strength and the advantage of their position, now want on amendment fluing a schedule of maximum rates, such an amendment it is claimed by the Democrats would ruin the bill and defeat its object in restricting the Commissioners in carrying out its provisions. A hard fight will be made in the Republican caucus to night to secure a combination on the basis of the acceptance by the Democrats of the two Republican Commissioners' amendment. The late of the bill, and with it that of all railpublican Commissioners' amendment. The late of the bill, and with it that of all rail-road legislation for this session is practically in the hands of the Republicans.

In the House this morning Senate bills were taken up and passed as follows:

An act authorizing county courts to set apart surplus revenue for payment of improvements on court houses, jails, bridges, etc. An act authorizing change of venter in cases before justices of the peace, to the most convenient instead of to the nearest justice.

An act amending the merchants' license law by prohibiting the sale under such license of intoxicating liquors to be drunk on the premises in less quantities than five gallons. Under the present law merchants can sell liquors in quantities from one gallon upwards. one gallon upwards.

Their Wages Advanced.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14.—The wages of the mployes of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company in this city will be increase road Company in this city will be increased from 8 to 15 per cent. The increase begins today and will affect about 500 men exclusive of those at Port Richmond and the freight and coal-handlers at the depots. This action of the company is the result of a conference which was held on Saturday between an arbitration board representing the employes and General Superintendent sweigard. It is understood that a similar advance of wages will be granted the employes at other noints along the road. It has just been made known, too, that the coal and freight-handlers of Port Richmond were advanced 15 per cent at the beginning of the year. This fact has been kept carefully concealed until now, both sides having pledged themselves to keep it quiet.

THE MARITIME BANK DISASTER. ST. JOHNS, N. B., March 14.-The valuable lumber property of J. Stewart in the Ottawa District has been attached by the broken Maritime Bank for $500,000. This on account of the sum of $600,000 said to be owing to the broken bank by the firm of R. A. and J. Stewart, lumber exporters. Not only the bank, but the great firms which it has been carrying, are hopelessly bankrupt. The deposits of $1,000, to 000 are swept away and hundreds of people are financially ruined. There is not an industry in New Brunswick that will not be disastrously affected. The bank did the largest business in the province and paid the highest rate of interest, hence its large deposits. It is only now that the people are realizing their desperate condition, hoping against hope until yesterday, when it was an nounced that the bottom had dropped out of the bank. This is the greatest disaster that has befailen St. Johns since the great fire of 1878, when one-half the city was destroyed.

FROTECTING THE FISHERIES.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 14.—Capt. Scott, R. N., Admiral of the Canadian navy and Commander of the cruiser Acadia, has completed all arrangements for beginning the fishery protection service on April 1. At the opening of the season cruisers will patrel the southwest coast of Nova Scotia and the entrance to the Bay of Fundy, where all spring fishing operations are carried on. Later on, as the summer advances, the reast of the cruisers now tied up will be put into commission. The fleet will be considerbank by the firm of R. A. and J. Stewart, lum-ably increased. Extensive improvements have been made in the Acadia this winter, giving her increased speed. Her furnace will burn hard coal which will not produce smoke, thus not disclosing her whereabouts to American schooners. The cruisers on the various stations will daily get under way with the fishing vessels and accompany them to the fishing grounds. They cruise in shore all day, keeping American schooners constantly in sight. At night all the vessels will return to the nearest port together. The gunners will be picked men of the British navy. The scamen will be drilled two hours daily and their exercise will include practice at the great guns as well as at cutiass and muskery instruction. Capt. Scott started for Halifax last night.

The diva introduced them as her niece, Carlina Patti, and her sister-in-law, Mme. Carlo Patti, who arrived from New Orleans last night.

"I have been worrying about them," said she, "and I am glad they are here. You see my little pet here, Carlina, the darling," and she patted her caressingly on the cheek, "shows the wear and tear of travel. She will go to Europe with me and will live with me hereafter. I thought that she would have few opportunities in New Orleans, for her mother is poor and has had to work for a living; they were rich, but lost all their money during the war. There were few chances for the dear little girl at her home, and Just concluded to take her with me and give her a home. She is my only brother's child, who you know died here in St. Louis."

At my home she will have all she can desire and at will be a new world for her, as she has never been out of New Orleans. She will have her own apartments, her maid, her French teacher, music teacher—she plays on the plano—and will receive a finishing off generally. Her mother will not accompany her but will remain in America for the present. I have provided for her by settling an annual income on her and we will see her when we return. It is hard for them to part, but she and all her friends know that it is best for her."

Miss Carlina was very quiet only smiling and speaking when she was spoken to, but she looked wonderfuily well-pleased at the new and dazgling prospect opened before her, for she is not only to live at Craig-y-Nos and be the diva's companion and daughter, but will have a fortune assured her.

The first concert was a harvest for the speculators. One firm claims it made $600. Another alieges that its premiums were $300. These reports became diffused, and when the box was opened for the Tuesday concert the scramble for positions in line was something terrific. Any one who had the good fortute to get to the box office did not satisfy himself with taking two or three tickets which would supply all his needs but bought ten, the limit enforced by the seller. In this way there arose clouds of speculators, who sold against each other, and when the Thursday concert was announced took fright and began to unload. It was extremely difficult for speculators to get choice seats at the first sale, as ladies were given the preference. One firm in this way secured 150 seats and hopes to come out with a slight profit. Another firm has sixty seats, which it will be glad to get yes, and even $15, to the box-office rate and with a slight profit. Another firm has sixty seats, which it will be glad to get rid of for a 10 per cent advance over the box-office rate. This firm paid as high as $8 for positions in the line, and a rival says its tickets cost an average of $4.50. The speculations did not extend to the balcony, as those engaged say seats in that portion of the house are only taken on account of their cheapness. A news stand owner who bought the limit several times is holding the residue of his purchases at $5 and refuses to sell for less. The messenger offices which invested largely are posting their tickets at box office rates, and at one place at least a gratuity "for the poor boy who stood in line" is begged. Patth has lost the friendship of the speculators, but what effect that will have on the Thursday concert is to be seen.

to-night, said:

"The combination between the B. & O. and Richmond Terminal systems will be an accomplished fact before many days, and it will be speedily followed by the organization of a system embracing the Southern group under consideration, the Reading and the Jersey Central. But the B. & O. will not lose its identity as a result of the combination. Nor will President Garrett retire from its active management. There has never been a suggestion in connection with this project, no matter who has conducted the negotiations, looking to the merging of the B. & O. into any other system or the surrender by President Garrett of control of that property. On the contrary, it has been specified in every proposition for a combination of these contiguous lines and common interests that the B. & O. was to be the central feature of the combined system and President Garrett was to continue at its head. It is a mistaken idea that the city of Baitimore, the State of Maryland and the Johns-Hopkins University interests were antagonistic to the projected combination. They are in perfect accord with President Garrett in the pending negotiotions, and the plan finally agreed to by him will be ratified by a practically unanimous vote of the stock."

He said further:

"There is not a scintilla of truth in the report that President Corbin has been obstructing President Garrett's plans for an entrance into New York City. The two presidents are on the best of terms and are working harmoniously for the consummation of the scheme of co-operating and unification of their roads, which is bound to succeed and will meet with general approval. This combination, when complete, will exert a powerful and beneficial influence on the transportation problem of the country, and will virtually establish and control the rates from Philadelphia, Baitimore and New York to southern scates."

Every trust of power in human hands is National Railroad Commission may be 60 abused, if the President fails to find and All business or news letters or telegrams appoint the right sort of men. But this bellines and Guelphs. was not a fatal objection to the Interstate Commerce bill; because the power entrusted by it to the Commissioners is a harmless trifle compared with the far greater power wielded previously by railroad officials responsible to no public authority and amenable to no law. It is impossible for the Commissioners to abuse their power more flagrantly, or so as to produce more cases of injury and injustice to the people, than the unrestrained railroad managers do. The same reasoning applies to the bill defining the powers of the State Railroad Commissioners. Their powers will not be half so dangerous as those which would be conferred on railroad syndicates and bosses by the persistent refusal of the Legislature o enforce the Constitution. No enforcement measures will ever be prepared or passed that will be absolutely free from defects. Legislation is always a matter of compromise between individual opinions, and cannot be absolutely perfect. Are Saying This Morning. NEW YORK, March 14.—The WORLD says: 'Representative Samuel J. Randall describes he pivotal point of the next Presidential elecon in almost the words employed by the WORLD some weeks ago. 'You may draw a line,' says Mr. Randall, 'within five miles of City Hall Park in New York, and here will be ast the vote which will make the President.' The reason for this is in the independent and fluctuating character of the vote of the metropolis, as well as in its numbers. The vote of the rural counties and the smaller cities is largely governed by party onsiderations and does not greatly vary in its relative division between the old organizations. But neither the business men nor the masses of this city can be relied on to vote one year precisely as they did the previous one. And since the workingmen have shown old parties, the issue becomes even more unertain. As New York is the pivotal State of the Union in the Presidential election, so this city is the pivotal city on which the State will urn, and neither political party can afford to mit this fact from its calculations in regard

THE TIMES.

The Times says: "While Congress bungled in its attempts to supply modern heavy gans for the forts, its provisions for the navy are now seen to have been of the most liberal character. The chief failure was that which resulted from the fatal delay in the general deficiency bill, which contained among its items an appropriation for completing the steel cruisers that have so long been under construction. In the main, however, such provisions have been made as to justify the declaration that the country has at last a new navy in progress of which it may be proud."

The Tribune says: "There is a popular belief now, that the police force in this city exercises a powerful influence on elections. That is apparent from the fact that the representatives of the city in the Legislature are constantly legislating to increase salaries, pensions, etc., in the police department, with a view of gaining the favor of the police. But this evil would be increased tenfold if the members of the police force were permitted to become candidates for office while retaining their places on the force. This was so generally recognized that a bill was passed years ago requiring a policeman to resign before he can become a candidate for an elective office. For some reason or other an effort is now being made in the Legislature to repeal that law. This effort should be defeated. The policemen have life positions with good salaries and pensions after twenty years' service. If Capt. A., or Inspector B., or Superintendent C., were running for office, the control of the police would give them an undue advantage. Bringing the police force into politics in this way would demoralize the department. The existing law ought not to be repealed."

CORRECT DRESS.

Interesting facts from a leading establishment on spring styles.

What to Wear—When and How to Wear It.

When old Polonius started Laertes on his journey through the world in search of fame and fortune he advised him, among other things, on the matter of dress, and when he told him "costly thy habit as thy purse can buy, but not expressed in fancy; rich, but not expressed in fancy; rich, but not expressed in fancy; rich, but not gaudy for the apparel oft proclaims the man," he seemed to strike the key note of ings. As substitute the cutaway, when worn socially, so to speak, must be dark and fine as to coat, while the trousers may be dark, which is always good form, or lightish.

'I will now take you to our dress suit department—to which we are giving unusual attention this season—since many professional men, merchants, brokers, etc., prefer the single-breasted, frock or Prince Arthur style of suit to any other; its conformity to the shape and neat, stylish appearance making the prevailing patterns, with a demand for light colors and fancy mixtures being the prevailing patterns, with a demand for light colors and fancy mixtures. The Prince Albert suit (figure 3) may be called the suit for formal dress by day, as the dress suit is the suit pare excellence of evening dress, and its proper occasions are weddings, receptions and other formal occasions but these in the evening. As suits of the suits for formal dress by day, as the dress suit is the suit pare excellence of evening dress, and its proper occasions are weddings, receptions and other formal occasions but these in the eventhe cut and trimming being in g in keeping with the fabric. Our trade demands an extensive assortment of these goods, which are tailor-made, and perfect in fit; and right here let me remark that the exquisite cut and make-up of the stock of clothing shown by us this season does away with all necessity of any gentleman seeking the merchant tailor in order to secure proper fitting and stylish garments—everything I have shown you being tailor-made' and from choice fabries of our own selections, a point you will consider being the difference in price—almost one-half. And while we are on this subject, 'continued the affable managen, 'I will say a word about men of uncommon size, build and stature. Hardly a day goos by but some man of Falstaffian proportions, or an individual of uncommon length of arm and leg, comes to us and in a doubting way, says: 'Can you fit me?' And it would do you good to see the smile of satisfaction that takes the place of a disappointed look when we say we can, for we have taken special care of the longs, the shorts, fats, stouts and leans, and no man who is hard to fit ever leaves our establishment unsatisfied—and whether he needs a pair of trousers, a suit or an overcoat, we turn him away in a contented state of mind—and with his purse still in a healthy condition.

'You know,'' observed Mr. Brown, ''that we claim the title of outflitters to all mankind, so of course the 'full dress brigade' must have a hearing. That being the case I will tell you something about the expense of the regula-

THE CIVIL COURTS.

CITIZENS PETITION FOR AN ELECTION OF SCHOOL BOARD DIRECTORS.

Order of the Court Sought for Every Ward Except the Third and Thirteenth-One Result of Redistricting—The Matter Presented to Judge Valliant To-Day—A rectors in all the wards of the city except the Third and Thirteenth was presented in Circuit Court No. 5, this morning, before Judge Valliant by W. C. and J. C. Jones and P. H. Bierman. They appeared for the following "free white citizens and taxpayers." Augustine P. Sheehan, John I. McMahon, I. Lane. The petition recites the various provisions of the Legislature establishing and regulating the Board of Public Schools in this city commencing with the act of 1833 establishing the corporation. It is represented that by the provisions of an act of the General Assembly of March 13, 1867, whenever the boundaries of any ward in the city of St. Louis shall be changed the seats of directors of the Board of Public Schools elected from said ward shall be vacated in the manner and at the time provided by law, and the rules of the board, the directors to continue in office in the manner and at the time provided by law, and the rules of the board, the directors to continue in office in the board at its first session which is further represented that by the rules and regulations adopted for the government of the Schools Board it is provided that whenever any vacancy shall occur in the board at its first session thereafter and the board at its first session of Lecture Court on the peace of the appointment of three commissioners by the Circuit Court on the petition of citizens who reported the failure of the Municipal Assembly to act in the matter of redistricting.

By the action of the Commissioners approved by the action of the Commissioners approved by the action of the Commissioners, approved by the action of the Commissioners approved by the action of the C Judge Valliant by W. C. and J. C. Jones and P. H. Bierman. They appeared for the folmilations adopted for the government of the School Board it js provided that whenever any vacancy shall occur in the board at its first session the state of the School Board it js provided that no special election to be held, provided that no special election shall be held if such vacancy occur within linety days prior to the regular election for school director in that ward.

The petition then cless that ward of this city and the appointment of three commissioners by the Circuit Court on the petition of citzens who reported the failure of the Municipal Assembly to act in the matter of redistricting. By the action of the Commissioners, approad wards—1st, 2d, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 19th, 20th, 18th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 18th, 2dt, 2dt, 2dt, 2dt, 2dth, 2dth, 2fth, 2fth and 2th and wards and wards and wards and wards and wards and the strong of the school Board in each ward except the Third Ward, and the Twenty-fourth Ward now known as the Thirteenth Ward, remains, thowever, unchanged. By virtue of the provisions of the act of 187 the position of Director of the School Board in each ward except the Thirteenth and the Third Ward became value and election, the election. The act of Aril 21, 1877, declares that whenever and election, and shall appoint under the court shall issue a certificate to the person elected. The Secretary notified the board, but they have failed and negliciated and conditions and the strong of the court of 1877, declares that whenever and election of the court and the court shall issue a certificate to the court shall appoint under the court and the court and the court shall issue a certificate to the court shall appoint and conditions and the strong of the court and the court shall appoint and conditions and the strong of the court and the court and the court and the court and election returns sh sons so elected.

Judge Valliant asked counsel if the officers of the School Board had been notified of this application, and Judge Jones replied in the negative. He recalled an instance of a similar application when Judge Krum was on the bench and the court granted the order for an election without any delay. He would submit the form of an order, however, requiring the directors of the School Board to show cause why such an order should not issue, returnable at once.

Judge Valilant thought that the directors should receive some notice of the application.
The papers in the case would be taken under advisement and the Court would act in the An Attorney Sued for Divorce. A petition for divorce was filed this morn in behalf of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Jones against Orville Davis Jones, an attorney at Edina, Knox County. The marriage took place March 19, 1874, at Genesee, Ill., and the separation occurred on the 18th of last month. Mrs. Davis alleges that for some time past her husband has subjected her to gross indignities. She alleges that he falsely accused her of making appointments with a certain clergyman of the neighborhood for improper purposes; that he falsely accused her of arranging with her sister to meet a certain man at night in her own room for an improper purpose; that he falsely accused her of allowing her apartments to be used by her sister for meetings with strangers; that he falsely accused her of meetings with strangers; that he falsely accused her of meeting a certain doctor, and told her that he wished she would leave him.

ing a certain doctor, and told her that he wished she would leave him.

Mrs. Jones further alleges that her husband ordered her to go back to her father, and took her clothes and threw them out of the room. He told people in the neighborhood that his wife wished to shoot him, and have him restrained in an asylum. He called her vile names such as: "You beast of a pauper; you heilish infernal, diabolical hell-born creature; you witch and viper!" Mrs. Jones further alleges that her husband told the children that their mother was possessed of the devil. He was at all times cross and irritable, and he neglected to provide for his children.

Mrs. Jones taught music with the view of supporting the family, but her husband took the proceeds himself. She alleges that he has about $4,000 worth of property and that his practice brings him in about $5,000 per annum. She asks for suitable alimony and for the custody of the children, Agnes Pauline and Bertha Josephine.

Matters in Probate.

The will of Elizabeth Clement was admitted probate to-day. The property is left to the children.

A copy of the will of Abraham M. Hutchinson was admitted to probate to-day. The property is left to the widow.

Manager Cedric Hope of the "Saints and Sinners" company met with an unfortunate accident at the Southern yesterday. The grate full of live coals fell out in his room and in jumping hastily to pick the coals from the carpet he struck his forehead against the mantel, cutting agash several inches iong. Dr. Powers sewed up the wound and Mr. Hope, though feeling somewhat shaky, filled the role of Capt. Fanshawe cleverly last evening.

Two Italians Killed in an Altercation by James Barrett at Dunmore, Pa. SCRANTON, Pa., March 14.-Last night at 10 o'clock an appalling double murder was com-nitted near Dunmore, a few miles from this near the Spencer mines, together with his Italian, visited Barrett's house and an altercation occurred concerning a woman named Collins, who was in the house at the time. Before Murrell was ejected, he cut Barrett with a knife or razor.

Some other Italians who lived in the neighborhood, heard the noise and proceeded to Barrett's house. Just what followed is not known, but two reports from a shotgun were heard, and when the scene was reached by officers, the dead bodies of George and Jose Murrell were found near the house, with their heads and necks perforated with buckshot. A third Italian named Francesco Motz received a number of buckshot in the abdomen, and his recovery is not thought to be probable.
Barrett was arrested. He admits having done the shooting, but says that he acted in selfdefense.

The names from which the Demogratic ticket will be made up have already been made public. The list includes about fourteen names. There will be seven vanoancies to fill, for which several interests will strive. The municipal administration has joined hands with the Merchauts' Exchange, and is in favor of selecting men who will be beyond the corrupt influences brought to bear at City Hall. Ed Butier has suggested a few names, among others that of Mr. Jas. Garrigan, Superintendent of the Laclede Gas Works. Mr. Garrigan's name has not been accepted, as it is not believed that it would add any strength to the ticket, owing to his connection with a corporation having big interests at stake. John B. Pfeffer, Jr., has issued his cards as a candidate for the House of Delegates in the Tenth Ward, subject to the Democratic pri-liaries.

It is said that Ed Fox has abandoned his as-plrations for a place in the Council. He will be a candidate for the House of Delegses from the new Twenty-first Ward. The clerks appointed by Recorder Williams under section 13 of the act of the General Assembly, approved March 31, 1883, began the verification of the precinct books to-day. They will report to the Ward Revisers. Barney Higgins, Matt Kohring, John H. Poliman, John McFall and Jas. McGill, well-known Republican workers, are menioned as willing to serve in the new House of Delegata.

A SACRILIGIOUS ROBBER.

The Purloiner of Poor- Boxes From a Church Captured by a Crowd of Boys.

Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. NEW YORK, March 14. - While the congregation of the Church of the Annunciation were pouring from the sacred edifice on North Second street, Williamsburg, Sunday afternoon, a shabbily dressed man about forty years old stood in the shadow of the fence watching the doors. The last worshipper had scarcely reached the sidewalk when the stranger glided into the vestibule, and thence entered the auditorium, twhere the poorboxes are hung. Taking a piece of file from his pocket he quickly opened one after another of the boxes and poured the pennies and silver pieces into his pocket. He then selzed a piece of silver plate exposed near the altar and again emerged upon the street. His suspicious actions while the congregation were taking their leave had attracted the attention of Mrs. Ann McCrodman, whose home is at 292 North Second street, directly opposite the church, and when she aw him come out with a package under his arm she immediately threw up the window and shouted "Stop, thief!" at the top of her voice. The man turned his brutal lace toward Mrs. McCrodman for an instant, and then, looking up and down the street hurriedly, and seeing no person in sight, he gave the woman a triumphant leer and started to run. McRibors who heard the unusual shout had seldom down the street hurriedly, and seeing no the street and into the yard of the parcehial school. No one followed, because it was not understood that a robbery had been committed. By chance the younger boys of the parish were holding a meeting in the school and were attracted to the windows by the cries outside. The thief ran linto an outhouse. Finding he was discovered he attempted to escape from the place, but the boys were in the yard in less than a minute and cut off his retreat. Out they ptrooped, twenty or thirty strong in number, but physically very puny youngsters and hardly able to cope to advantage with the boury fellow who had now fortified himself in the outhous eagain. One lad orept to the door of the shed and looked in. He reported to his comrades that the man was emptying money from his pockets into the cesspool. Immediately there was a rush for the intruder, and burly fellow who had now lottered to his the outhouse again. One ladd crept to the door of the shed and looked in. He reported to his commades that the man was emptying money from his pockets into the cesspool. Immediately there was a rush for the intruder, and a small boy, who was in the front of the line, selzed the thief's arm. The boy was hurled to the ground with a single blow, then a second one suffered the same fate, but the crowd behind pressed on and the thief was so surrounded by, the swarming host that he could not move. Money was scattered over the ground in the struggle and several boys were hurt, but they clung to the man till help arrived. When it was learned that the poor-bexes had been robbed some one shouted "Lynch him," but the excitement was quelled by men of cooler blood and the culprit was taken before Father Hauptman. The priest was even more indigent and than the members of the crowd when he heard of the sacriligious robbery, and threat end of the sacriligious robbery, and threat very fast men in the country who, if properly handled would outdo Harry Hutchens. The first handled would outdo dut doud outdo Harry Hutchens. It was been considered the sacriligious robbery, and threat very fast men in the country who, if properly handled would outdo dut of the back with his fist, and smashed the boat so badly that it sank, and heard of the sacriligious robbery, and threat very fast men in the country who, if properly handled would outdo Harry Hutchens. It is ank and matterson and reter kemp, on the occasion of the Bathurst regatta in Australia, show that the men were competing in the outriggers' race and were left with another sculler in the fight either of them. Billy Wilson, the colored fight either of them.

nant than the members of the crowd when he heard of the sacriligious robbery, and threatened to get his pistol and shoot the fellow. The police were notified and Roundsman O'Brien with Officer Quinn put in an appearance. As the prisoner was a desperate-looking fellow he was hand-cuffed. While being led to the station he was followed by over 1,000 indignant people who would have preferred to lynch him, had they had a leader. The man said that he was Walter Lennox, 40 years old, but would not tell where he lived. In his pockets were found 150 pennies which he had not got rid of when his little captors cornered him, and also the half of the file with which he had opened the boxes. The boys fished up about 400 pennies which had been thrown in the vault, and it is supposed that there is still about 155 there. ## CAUSED BY CARELESSNESS.

A Destructive Blaze in Mrs. Lillie Langtry's New York Residence.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. lessness of a servant in lighting the lamps a very destructive blaze occurred at Mrs. Lillie ngtry's residence,361 West Fifty-first street, last evening. The flames first caught in some silken drapery over a marble statue, and silken drapery over a marble statue, and blazing up, caught the portieres of imperial yellow silk which separated the music-room from the drawing-room. As the walls were hung with silk the flames soon encircled the entire apartment, and when the alarmed household ran in with buckets of water, there was a sharp struggle to subdue the fire. Most of the damage is irreparable, as several valuable pictures were scorched and blistered. Among them were portraits with autograph inscriptions of King Oscar of Denmark, the Prince and Princess of Wales, Mr. clastone and several other notable friends of the actress. The iniaid wood floor was charred and the tail of the great cinnamon bear was burned off. Mrs. Langtry's grand plano also received much damage. The loss will run into the thousands, as the room was convoided with costly bric-a-brac. Mrs. Langtry is almost inconsolable at the loss of several precious things.

HUGH HEALY DEFEATS A HEAVY-WEIGHT FROM EDWARDSVILLE, ILL.

Proposed "Knocker-Out" - Boyle and Dawson Arrive-The Detroits in Danger of Dissolution-Sporting News and Base

Hugh Healey, a well-known local boxer, and a heavy-weight named Wilson from the good of Edwardsville, Ill., fought six rounds yesterday afternoon in a wellknown resort on South Sixth street. The fight originated in a proposition of a friend of Wilon's that the latter could knock out Healy in six rounds. Healy was consulted, and agreed to face the heavy-weight for a reasonable consideration. Wilson's friend offered to bet $100 to $50 that his man could put the youngster to sleep in the stipu-lated number of rounds, and without more ado the two, their seconds and a party of nine mutual friends adjourned to the south end to settle the controversy. The party sought a quiet spot on the premises and two pairs of two ounce mittens were thrown on the ground, No ring was erected, as an early result was anthe ''rushing'' style of fighting and managed to land heavily on Healy's jaw and neck. Wilson measured some six feet in his fighting Opening. shoes, and, as Healy is a much shorter man the incongruity in size between the two lent a humorous aspect to the fight. The first round came to an end without any startling developments. In the second round Healy began to force the fighting and onfined his work mainly to Wilson's stomach, while the heavy-weight found it difficult to injure his opponent on account of the latter's low stature. In the last round of the fight Healy struck Wilson a rousing thump on the jaw and the heavy-weight went to grass. The fight was unscientific in the extreme and proved a source of much amusement to the spectators.

In an indirect way it has been learned that Bubear is really to be Hanlan's mate during the coming season, and not O'Conner, as has been surmised. In selecting Bubear Hanlan has made an excellent choice, as he is a fine oarsman. Bubear, accompanied by Mr. J. Innes. the London sporting man who promoted the great sweepstakes races last season, and backed Wallace Ross, and Mr. Labot of the London Rowing Club will start for this country about the 20th of April. They will be met in New York by Hanlan.

Teemer has decided not to challenge Gaudaur until after the Hanlan race, when he proposes to challenge the winner for from $1,000 to $5,000 a side.

Detroit in Danger.

The great Detroit club, owner of the famous "big four" and the only Dunlap, are in a quandary as to how the team will pull through the season of '87 under its enormous salary list of over $47,000. The managers of the club have issued a circular to the business men of Detroit, asking for financial aid to help pull the team through the season. It is set forth in the circular that last season the club made from $500 to $700 per game while away from home, and that this year they will receive but $125 a game as provided for under the guarantee system; that he club can not possibly live through the season unless it receives the support of citizens. It is clear the Detroit Club for the ensuing year must depend entirely upon its home patronage, which is not adequate to support so expensive a club, and the ultimate result will be the dissolution of the famous team. ## Boyle and Dawson Arrive.

Jack Boyle, who is regarded as one of the best young catchers of the day, arrived this morning from Cincinnati, and is now installed in the world's champions' camp. He looks in the world's champions' camp. He looks every inch a ball player, and reminds one of Foutz. Boyle did big work for Hick Carpenter's New Orleans nine the past month, and his back-stop abilities were highly spoken of by press and public.

Tom Dawson, whom Caruthers secured from Chicago, reached town this morning from the windy city. He is a remarkably well-built young pitcher, and has the appearance of being able to hold his own with any of them. He is fully as tall as Foutz, though much heavier.

A Word About Catarrh.

"It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and dispase, dulling the sense of hearing, trammeling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tanting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous lining and envelops the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives are simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination. Sanford's Radical Cure, by Inhalation and by Internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful, inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out." the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been rocovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out."

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE consists of one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box of CATARRHAL SOLVENT, and IMPROVED INHALER, neatly wrapped in one package, with full directions; price, $1.00.
